

Article 22 of the Constitution of the ILO

Report for the period 2 May 2005 to 30 April 2010 made by the Government of New Zealand on the Medical Examination of Young Persons (Sea) Convention 1921 (No. 16)

(ratification registered on 5 December 1961)

Section I-II:

Part 34 – Medical Standards of the maritime rules made under the Maritime Transport Act 1994 provides for New Zealand compliance with the terms of the Convention. There have been no changes since the previous report.

Section III:

Application of the legislation is the responsibility of the Maritime New Zealand

Section IV:

No decisions of this nature have been given.

Section V:

Compliance with the provisions of the Convention are monitored and enforced, as required, by inspectors of Maritime Safety Authority of New Zealand.

Section VI:

Copies of this report have been forwarded to the following representative organisations of employers and workers:

Business New Zealand
The New Zealand Council of Trade Unions